

Notes from the Library

September 2014

Note from the Director

We recently heard about a little problem a couple of libraries in our Network discovered. One library was writing down the computer guest pass library card number on a slip of paper and handing it to the patron so he/she could use the computer. The patron then took that library's guest pass card number and checked out material at another library using the self-checkout machine.

True, we don't have any self-checkout machines, but Cottonwood and Sedona do and some library folk have been known to check items out to patrons who give them their library card number verbally. Another no-no.

I hope this helps you understand that we do not suddenly make up procedures because we like to make changes. When a patron requests a guest pass for computer use, please go to the computer and enter the number yourself. If a patron does not have his/her library card or picture ID please follow Alice's instructions below.

Volunteering is the ultimate exercise in democracy. You vote in elections once a year, but when you volunteer, you vote every day about the kind of community you want to live in.

Tip of the Month

Library materials can no longer be checked out unless the patron presents a library card or a valid form of ID in order to protect the patrons' personal information. Always remember that if this becomes an issue, come and get me and I will be glad to come up to the front desk and take care of it.

My first library recollections:

My acquaintance with the Camp Verde library began in 1979 when my husband and I moved to the Verde Valley from Flagstaff to seek warmer pastures. One of my first trips in Camp Verde was a visit to the library with my 4 yr. old son. There I met and had nice visits over books with Terry Ellison, the librarian. At that time the children's area was to the left of the entrance -- where the A-B fiction and audio-visual area is now. The present children's room was used as a community room and a courtroom at various times. In 1982 when my daughter was 3, I wanted her to be in a story time. There wasn't one, so Terry suggested I try one myself, and so I did! I began a 30min. program for ten 3-4 year olds. It proved so popular that I had to add a second one. Later I did summer reading programs. As my children grew up, I began volunteering at the front desk on Saturdays and then weekday afternoons. I've seen many changes through the years and hope to see the new library built. Helping here has been fun and a blessing for me and, as I love books, the perfect place to be.
